Suncor Energy spends $1 billion with Aboriginal business partners

Calgary, Alberta (April 8, 2009) – Suncor Energy Inc. today recognized the achievement of a $1 billion goods and services spending milestone with Aboriginal business partners in the Wood Buffalo region.

Suncor has been collecting data since 1992 on its spending with Aboriginal companies in the Regional Municipality of Wood Buffalo near its oil sands operations in northeastern Alberta. With Aboriginal business-related spending of $220 million in 2008, the company surpassed a $1 billion goods and services spending milestone with these companies.

Aboriginal owned and operated businesses have played a vital role in helping Suncor develop the Athabasca oil sands resource. The businesses range in scope and scale and include fuel distribution, maintenance, reclamation, heavy equipment operation, tire shredding, manufacturing, and hotel and airline services.

"We're particularly proud of this milestone and appreciate our partner companies' efforts in helping us make it a reality," said Rick George, president and chief executive officer. "We've worked hard to build strong mutually beneficial relationships with Aboriginal communities near our operations. By tapping into the regional skills and experience of these communities, we're making progress on a number of shared economic, social and environmental goals."

Suncor's successful partnership with Aboriginal companies is reflected in its relationship with the Fort McKay Group of Companies. "Because of the strong business relationship we've developed with Suncor, I believe we'll continue to expand with future endeavors that will benefit Suncor, the community of Fort McKay and the Fort McKay Group of Companies," explains Frederick McDonald, CEO of Fort McKay Group of Companies.

Another partnership example is Aqua Industrial Ltd. Gerry Gionet, President & CEO, is a local Métis entrepreneur who has built successful business operations in Fort McMurray with a regional focus on business development since 1996. Says Gionet: "My personal vision has always included the betterment of the Aboriginal community at large in the Regional Municipality of Wood Buffalo as well as the needs of the business community." He adds: "I found that Suncor's vision was similar to mine in that respect. We have built a strong relationship that has taught me better business practices, and I use these skills and experience to be a mentor to others in the community."

Suncor's partnership with Aboriginal companies will also be recognized at an upcoming Northeastern Alberta Aboriginal Business Association event in May.
